Chapter 01 - Pancha Paramesthi

Namo Arihantānam: I bow down to Arihanta,
Namo Siddhānam: I bow down to Siddha,
Namo Āyariyānam: I bow down to Āchārya,
Namo Uvajjhāyānam: I bow down to Upādhyāy,
Namo Loe Savva-Sāhunam: I bow down to Sādhu and Sādhvi.

Eso Pancha Namokkāro: These five fold reverence (bowings downs),
Savva-Pāvappanāsano: Destroy all the sins,
Manglānancha Savvesim: Amongst all that is auspicious,
Padhamam Havai Mangalam: This Navakār Mantra is the foremost.

The Navakār Mantra is the most important mantra in Jainism and can be recited at any time. While reciting the Navakār Mantra, we bow down to Arihanta (souls who have reached the state of non-attachment towards worldly matters), Siddhas (liberated souls), Āchāryas (heads of Sādhus and Sādhvis), Upādhyāys (those who teach scriptures and Jain principles to the followers), and all (Sādhus and Sādhvis (monks and nuns, who have voluntarily given up social, economical and family relationships). Together, they are called Pancha Paramesthi (The five supreme spiritual people). In this Mantra we worship their virtues rather than worshipping any one particular entity; therefore, the Mantra is not named after Lord Mahāvir, Lord Pārshva-Nāth or Ādi-Nāth, etc. When we recite Navakār Mantra, it also reminds us that, we need to be like them. This mantra is also called Namaskār or Namokār Mantra because in this Mantra we offer Namaskār (bowing down) to these five supreme group beings. Recitation of the Navakār Mantra creates positive vibrations around us, and repels negative ones.

The Navakār Mantra contains the foremost message of Jainism. The message is very clear. If we want to be liberated from the cycle of life and death, we need to renounce worldly affairs by becoming a monk or a nun. This is just the beginning. If we stay on the right path, we will progress to a higher spiritual state, Kevali or Arihanta, and ultimately proceed to become Siddha after nirvana (liberation from the cycle of birth and death). The goal of every soul is to become a Siddha.

Arihantas

The word Arihanta is made up of two words: 1) Ari means enemies, and 2) Hant means destroyer. Therefore, Arihanta means a destroyer of enemies. The enemies referred to here are internal: inner desires and passions. The passions include anger, ego, deceit, and greed. Until we eliminate these passions, the real nature or the power of our soul will not be realized or manifested. When a person (soul) wins over these inner enemies he/she is called a Kevali (omniscient) and Jina (victor).
This state of not having passions and omniscience is manifested when that person has completely destroyed the four-Ghāti karmas (destructive) namely:

- Jnānāvaraniya (knowledge obscuring) Karma
- Darshanāvaraniya (perception obscuring) Karma
- Mohaniya (deluding) Karma
- Antarāya (obstructing) Karma

These karmas are called Ghāti (destructive) karmas because they directly affect the true nature of the soul. When these Karmas are destroyed, a person attains the following four infinite qualities (Anant Chatushtay) and is called a Kevali.

- Kevaljnān (Anant Jnān) - Perfect knowledge due to the destruction of all Jnānāvaraniya Karmas
- Keval-Darshan (Anant Darshan) - Perfect perception due to the destruction of all Darshanāvaraniya karmas
- Anant Chāritra - Passionless state due to the destruction of all Mohaniya Karmas
- Anant Virya - Infinite energy due to the destruction of all Antarāya Karmas.

A Kevali who revitalizes the Jain religion and establishes a Jain Sangh (four-fold Jain order) consisting of Sādhus, Sādhvis, Shrāvaks (male householders), and Shrāvikās (female householders), is known as Tirthankar or Arihanta. During every half time cycle, only twenty-four individuals rise to the level of Tirthankar. The first Tirthankar of our time period was Lord Rushabhdev, and the twenty-fourth and last Tirthankar was Lord Mahāvīr. Lord Mahāvīr lived from 599 BC to 527 BC.

According to some, all Kevalis are called Arihanta as they have destroyed inner enemies.

At the time of Nirvān (liberation from the worldly existence), Arihanta sheds off the remaining four Aghāti (Non-destructive) karmas:

- Nām (body determining) Karma
- Gotra (status determining) Karma
- Vedaniya (feeling producing) Karma
- Āyushya (life span determining) Karma.

These four karmas do not affect the true nature of the soul; therefore, they are called Aghāti karmas. They are related to the physical body of the soul. After attaining liberation (death) the souls of Arihantas are called Siddhas.

Attributes of Arihantas

Tirthankars have in total 12 unique characteristics. Of those, four are main attributes known as Atishaya. The other eight attributes are endowed by heavenly gods and are known as Pratihārya.
Four Main Attributes (4 Atishaya)

- Omniscience
- Delivers Extraordinary sermon
- Worshipped by mundane souls of the whole universe
- No calamities or diseases exist in his vicinity.

Some Jains believe the four Anant Chatushtay (Infinite knowledge, Infinite perception, Infinite Energy, Perfect Conduct) instead of 4 Atishaya.

Eight Other Attributes (Pratihārya - endowed by heavenly gods)

- Simhāsan: A divine seat from where Arihanta delivers sermons
- Bhāmandal: A halo around Arihanta’s head
- Chāmar: Angels are waving fans (Chowries) to show Arihanta’s greatness
- Chhatras: A three tier divine umbrella over the head suggests that he is the king of the entire universe which consist of three regions - Hell, Earth, and Heaven.
- Ashok Vruksha: A tree under-which Arihanta sits
- Pushpavrusti: A continuous shower of fragrant flowers
- Dev-dundubhi: A divine announcement declaring Arihanta’s sermons
- Divya-dhwani: A celestial music accompanying Arihanta’s sermons

Thirty Four Atishaya

These 12 attributes, when elaborately explained are counted as 34 Atishaya. Both Shvetāmbar and Digambar account for thirty-four Tirthankar Atishay. Some Atishayas are birth related, some are created by heavenly gods (Devas), and some are realized at the time of Kevaljnān.

By Birth, Arihanta has the most beautiful, powerful, and proportionally built body with 1008 auspicious birth marks. As he is full of compassion, his blood is white, like milk. His breath is fragrant, like a lotus and his body does not generate any waste. He is always disease free. He has very soothing, peaceful, and serene voice which can be heard from very long distances. His language can be easily understood by all - humans and animals alike. He can be seen and heard from all four directions. Everyone listens to the sermon keeping their animosities aside.

In his vicinity the weather is always pleasant and there are no calamities for miles. The Samavasaran can accommodate all. Dharma Chakra (symbolic wheel of religion) and Ashta Mangal (eight embellishments) are also present at the Samavasaran.
Siddhas

Siddhas are liberated souls. They are no longer among us because they have completely ended the cycle of birth and death. They have reached the ultimate highest state, the state of liberation. They do not have any karmas, and they do not collect any new karmas. This state of true freedom is called Nirvan. By destroying all 8 types of karmas Siddhas acquire 8 unique attributes. They are as follows:

Eight Attributes of Siddhas:

- Anant Jnän (∞ Knowledge)
- Anant Darshan (∞ Perception)
- Avyābāḍha Sukha (Eternal Happiness)
- Anant Chāritra (Perfect Conduct)
- Akshaya Sthiti (Immortality)
- Arupitva (Formlessness)
- Aguru Laghutva (No Status (Neither heavy or light))
- Anant Virya (Infinity Energy)

Ächāryas

The teachings of Lord Mahāvir, the last Tirthankar, is carried on by the Ächāryas. They are our spiritual leaders. The responsibility of spiritual (not social or economical) welfare of the entire Jain community rests on the shoulders of the Ächāryas. Before reaching this state, one has to do an in depth study and achieve mastery of the Jain scriptures (Ägams). In addition to acquiring a high level of spiritual excellence, they have the ability to lead the congregation of monks, nuns and laypeople. Generally, they have the knowledge of various languages and other philosophies and religions of the world. Ächārya is the head of the Jain congregation. They possess the following 36 qualities:

Upādhyāys

This title is given to those Śādhus who have acquired complete knowledge of the Jain scriptures (Āgams) and philosophical systems. They teach Jain scriptures to other ascetics and laypeople. Upādhyāys possess 25 attributes. These 25 attributes are the symbolic representation of the 25 Jain scriptures they study. These scriptures are as follows:

Twenty Five Attributes of Upādhyāys

1. 11 canonical texts (Angas) compiled by Ganadhar, who were the immediate disciples of Tirthankar
2. 12 canonical texts (Upāngas) compiled by Shruta Kevalis
3. 1 scripture of proper conduct
4. 1 scripture of proper practice

According to Digambar Tradition Upādhyāy has Knowledge of 11 Anga Agams and 14 Digambar Anga Bāhya Agams.

Śādhus and Śādhvis

When householders desire to detach from the worldly aspects of life and gain a desire for spiritual uplift, they renounce worldly lives and become Śādhus (monk) or Śādhvis (nun). A male person is called Śādhu, and a female person is called Śādhvi. Before becoming Śādhu or Śādhvi, a lay person must stay with Śādhus or Śādhvis to understand their life style and do religious studies for several months. When they feel confident that they will be able to live the life of a monk or a nun, they inform the Āchārya that they are ready for initiation. If the Āchārya is convinced that they are ready and are capable of following the vows of Śādhu or Śādhvi, he prepares them for Dikṣā. Dikṣā is an initiation ceremony, following, which a householder becomes a monk or a nun. At the time of Dikṣā, the Śādhu or Śādhvi take five major vows for the rest of his/her life.
5 Great Vows

Commitment of Ahinsā  Non-violence  Not to commit any type of violence.
Commitment of Satya  Truth  Not to indulge in any type of lie or falsehood.
Commitment of Asteya  Non-stealing  Not to take anything not given properly.
Commitment of Brahmacharya  Celibacy  Not to indulge in any sensual pleasures
Commitment of Aparigraha  Non-possessiveness  Not to acquire more than what is needed to maintain day-to-day life.

The great vows of monks and nuns imply not doing, not asking someone to do, nor appreciating someone’s act of breaching of these vows by mind, body or speech. Sādhus and Sādhvis have 27 attributes as follows.

27 Attributes of Ascetics (Monks and Nuns)

- Five great vows as above 5
- Protection of Five one-sensed lives (water, fire, earth, air and plant known as Sthāvar souls) and One group of moving living beings (two-sensed to five-sensed living beings) known as Tras souls 6
- To control pleasures of five senses (Touch, Taste, Smell, Sight, Hearing) 5
- To observe restraints 1
- To control mind, speech, and body 3
- Not to eat before sunrise and after sunset 1
- Forgiveness 1
- Avoidance of greed 1
- Endure hardship 1
- Endure suffering 1
- Introspection 1
